“ACTOR-PLAYWRIGHT JOSH JONAS UPS THE ANTE

and manages to bring it off. There are elements enabling Mr. Jonas to tell the story convincingly: his Long Island background, obvious love of music and fluid command and pacing of the material, aided by Larry Moss's direction. It is striking to discover that these events are not directly based on Mr. Jonas's personal experience. The illusion has been conveyed. No small feat, that.”

- NY TIMES

“A VIBRANT AND AFFECTING PERFORMANCE.

Jonas has a strong stage presence and seemingly boundless energy. His handsome features are capable of a wide range of expression, radiating joy one minute and conveying profound sorrow the next. The fraternal affection that Elijah expresses seems genuine, and the script includes healthy doses of humor to balance out the play's more dramatic moments.”

- THEATERMANIA

“CAPTIVATING. INNOVATIVE, INSIGHTFUL DRAMA.

Smash of the soul. A Jewish 'Field of Dreams' for brothers. The author just may have a hit on his hands.”

- JEWISH EXPONENT

“PACKS A DEVASTATINGLY HONEST WALLOP.

This glimmering gem of a play earns every box of Kleenex you'll need to get through it, smoothly proving along the way that even the smallest of people can have a huge impact on our lives.”

- TALKIN' BROADWAY

“EVERY MOVE IS CONFIDENT AND DETERMINED.

Structurally, 'Capture Now' has some real advantages. The dramaturgy is tight, and every single character Jonas introduces comes back into the plot in an interesting way.”

- VARIETY

“A WELL PACED PERFORMANCE... REALLY GOOD – WELL WRITTEN, SOMETIMES HUMOROUS AND SOMETIMES AIMED TO TUG AT OUR HEART STRINGS.”
